

Use Case Modeling

In this assignment, you are required to provide use case design for an online hotel booking system. You first should go to www.hotels.com and play around with its user interface. The next step is to draw the UML use case diagram for the system.

Provide a brief explanation along with the use case diagram. You might want to structure your diagram into sub-diagrams, each is in one page.

Note that hotels.com also allows the booking of flights, car rentals, vacation packages, etc.
